

Your Oakdale Brewery Tour Itinerary

Pack your sunglasses, don't eat too hearty of a breakfast, and head out in time to get to Oakdale by late morning.

Stop #1 - Before heading into town

You're going to pass quite a few fruit stands. Almonds, strawberries, flowers, etc. are all on offer, depending on the time of year you're visiting. Take the time to stop at one now, as they may be closed by the time you make it back home! (We recommend bringing a small ice chest to keep your selections at optimal freshness)

Stop #2 - Oakdale's Cheese & Specialties

Drop in to taste some award-winning gouda, along with other delicious varieties of cheeses, local wine, and gourmet specialties. While in their shop, you will get to see how the cheese you are tasting is made! They have a short self-guided tour that you don't want to skip. While on the beautiful factory grounds, you can meet and feed their friendly farm animals!

Open Daily from 9am to 6pm

Stop #3 - We're here for the beer!

Our first brewery stop is Grains of Virtue, a microbrewery started by XX in XX. Grains of Virtue serves up an amazing variety of hoppy beers, smoothie sours and bright colored seltzers, so there is definitely something here for everyone.

Follow them on Instagram and on Facebook to keep up on their latest events. Recent events have included Beer + Yoga, Comedy shows, mini music festivals, and lots of local food trucks!

Stop #5 - Last Call Brewing Co!

While our next stop is called Last Call, it's not actually your last stop on today's tour! Last Call's microbrewery is located just outside of town, and their fabulous tap room is located right in the heart of Downtown Oakdale.

With over 15 varieties of beer on tap, you'll be hard pressed to find something that doesn't impress your taste buds. Last Call hosts food trucks daily, as well as a variety of events, including trivia nights.

Check out their schedule of events online at and on

Stop #6 - Dying Breed Brewing

Located on the outskirts of town, Dying Breed Brewing believes in keeping good traditions alive and paying homage to those that worked hard at their craft. They do their part by developing local craft beer made with the finest ingredients and inspired by a story of tradition. From lagers to ales to sours, they have a great variety of beers to try out. If you plan your trip right, you'll arrive in time to grab some late afternoon drinks, get some food from a local food truck, and enjoy an evening of music from a visiting band!
